Cigar Room

THE CIGAR ROOM ESTABLISHES A CLUBBY SETTING THAT ENCOURAGES RELAXATION AND CONVERSATION.

87 Walls upholstered in velvet and finished with nailhead trim suggest a gentleman's getaway. (In a real cigar room, fabric-covered walls would retain smoke, say designers Corey Mcintosh and Hanna Richardson.)

88 Add an updated classic element, here, Jean-Michel Frank-style lounge chairs with slipcovered, silk-lined shells. 89 Blue paint on the ceiling promotes serenity and makes the ceiling appear lower. 90 Include something to delight a child—or an adult—such as the antique cigar press on the coffee table. 91 A Colonial-style chandelier sports a giant, custom-made created shade, available from the designer. 92 Hans Cletz Astel's fish painting suggests appropriate themes of game and hunting.

“This room is a perfect example of how a designer can create a space that is both functional and beautiful. The attention to detail is evident in every corner, from the custom-made chandelier to the antique cigar press. It's a true masterpiece of interior design.”
